Why The Oak?

In 1913 the first volume of the Review appeared, published by the students of Oak Cliff High School. This first book was dedicated to Mr. W. H. Adamson, then principal at Oak Cliff High. In 1916 volume III was named the Oak.

Why the Oak? We can only surmise. Since Hord's Ridge had been renamed Oak Cliff and what is now Adamson High School had been intended to serve that area, what more appropriate name could have been selected for the yearbook than the Oak? Also the newspaper, named the Acorn, had its initial printing the preceding year and the saying, 'Big Oaks from little Acorns grow' may also have come to mind.

And so, just as all the "little" Acorns report current events at Adamson, the "big" Oak pictures the entire year's activities. It has done so for the past 52 years. For over a half century, the Oak has told the story of the people who are Adamson High School.

Just as the Oak tree is known for its sturdiness and durability, Adamson has proved throughout the years that it is a school strong in spirit, character, and scholarship. And even as the branches of an Oak tree stem in many angles, the students that have passed through Adamson have traveled in many directions and achieved many things.

For these reasons, the Oak tree itself has been chosen as the theme of The Oak for 1967.

We dedicate the '67 Oak to . . .

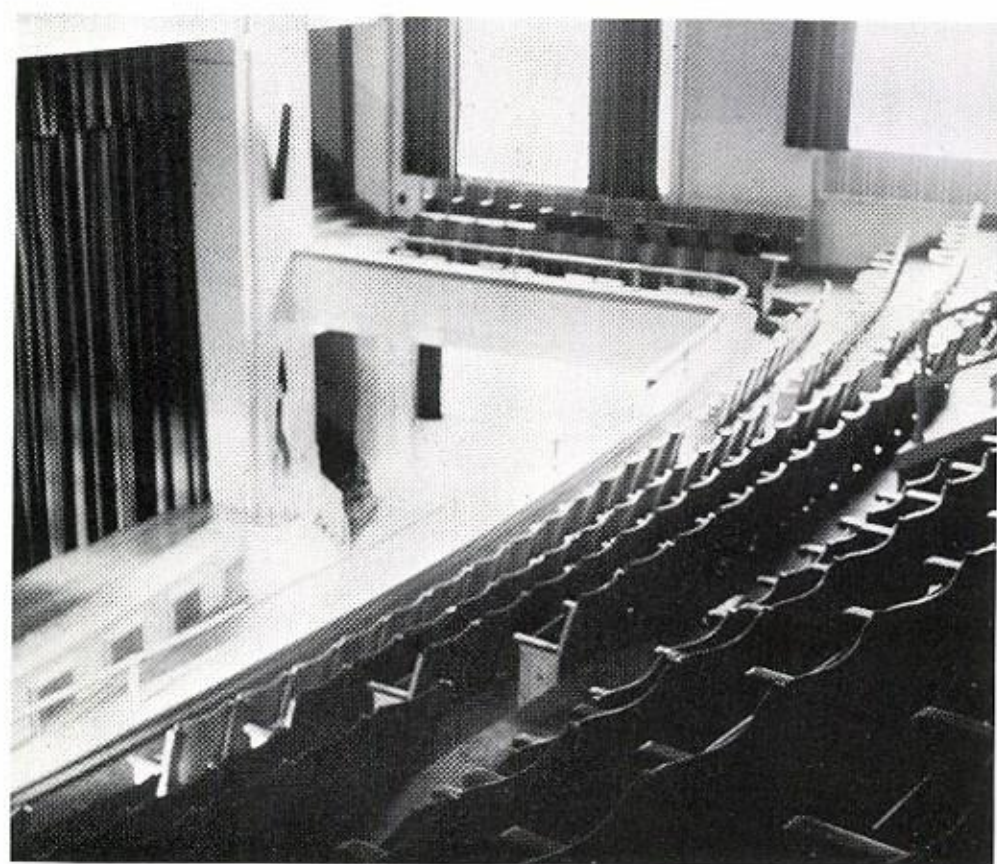

In sincere appreciation for the kindness, understanding, and guidance of one who has been friend, teacher, and counselor, we, the 1967 OAK staff, dedicate the OAK to Assistant Principal Royce Larsen.

Student Life is Tiring for Some

Student Life for many is one of complete exhaustion, pulled muscles, sunrise practices, night play rehearsals, and those Saturday morning work-outs after Friday night football games. But these hours involved in activities are the ones that give spirit to student life and zest to the memories of it.

Restful for Others

It's laughing . . . It's crying . . .

But
Most of all
It's fun!

Student Life is . . . Spirit

Our school has a spirit
Freed by a rousing cheer
A clapping of hands
And a wild leap of victory.
Spirit is the heart of the school
And keeps it very much alive!
Victory or defeat, Leopard Spirit
Is always loud and proud.

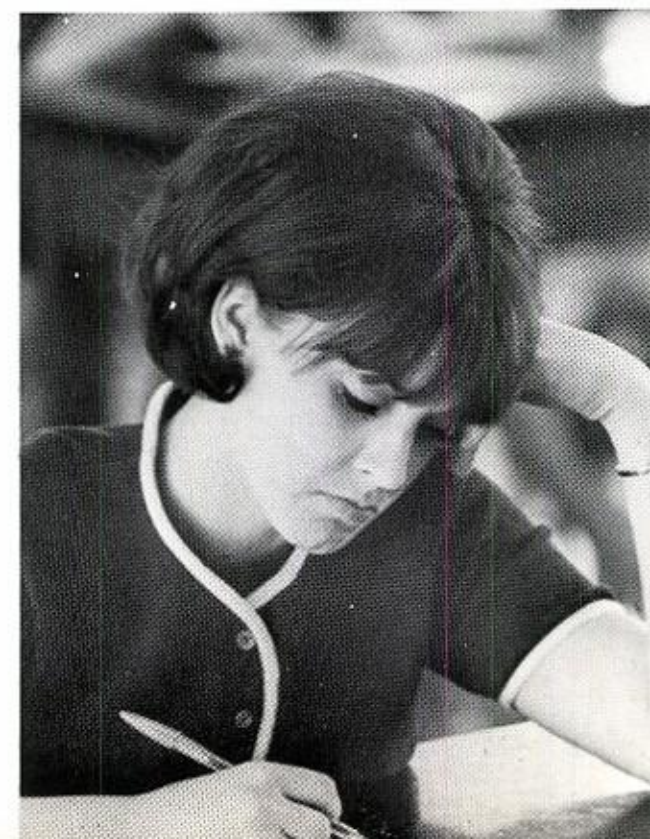

People

quiet study

Here is Big A talent at its best with guitar playing folk singers still most popular.

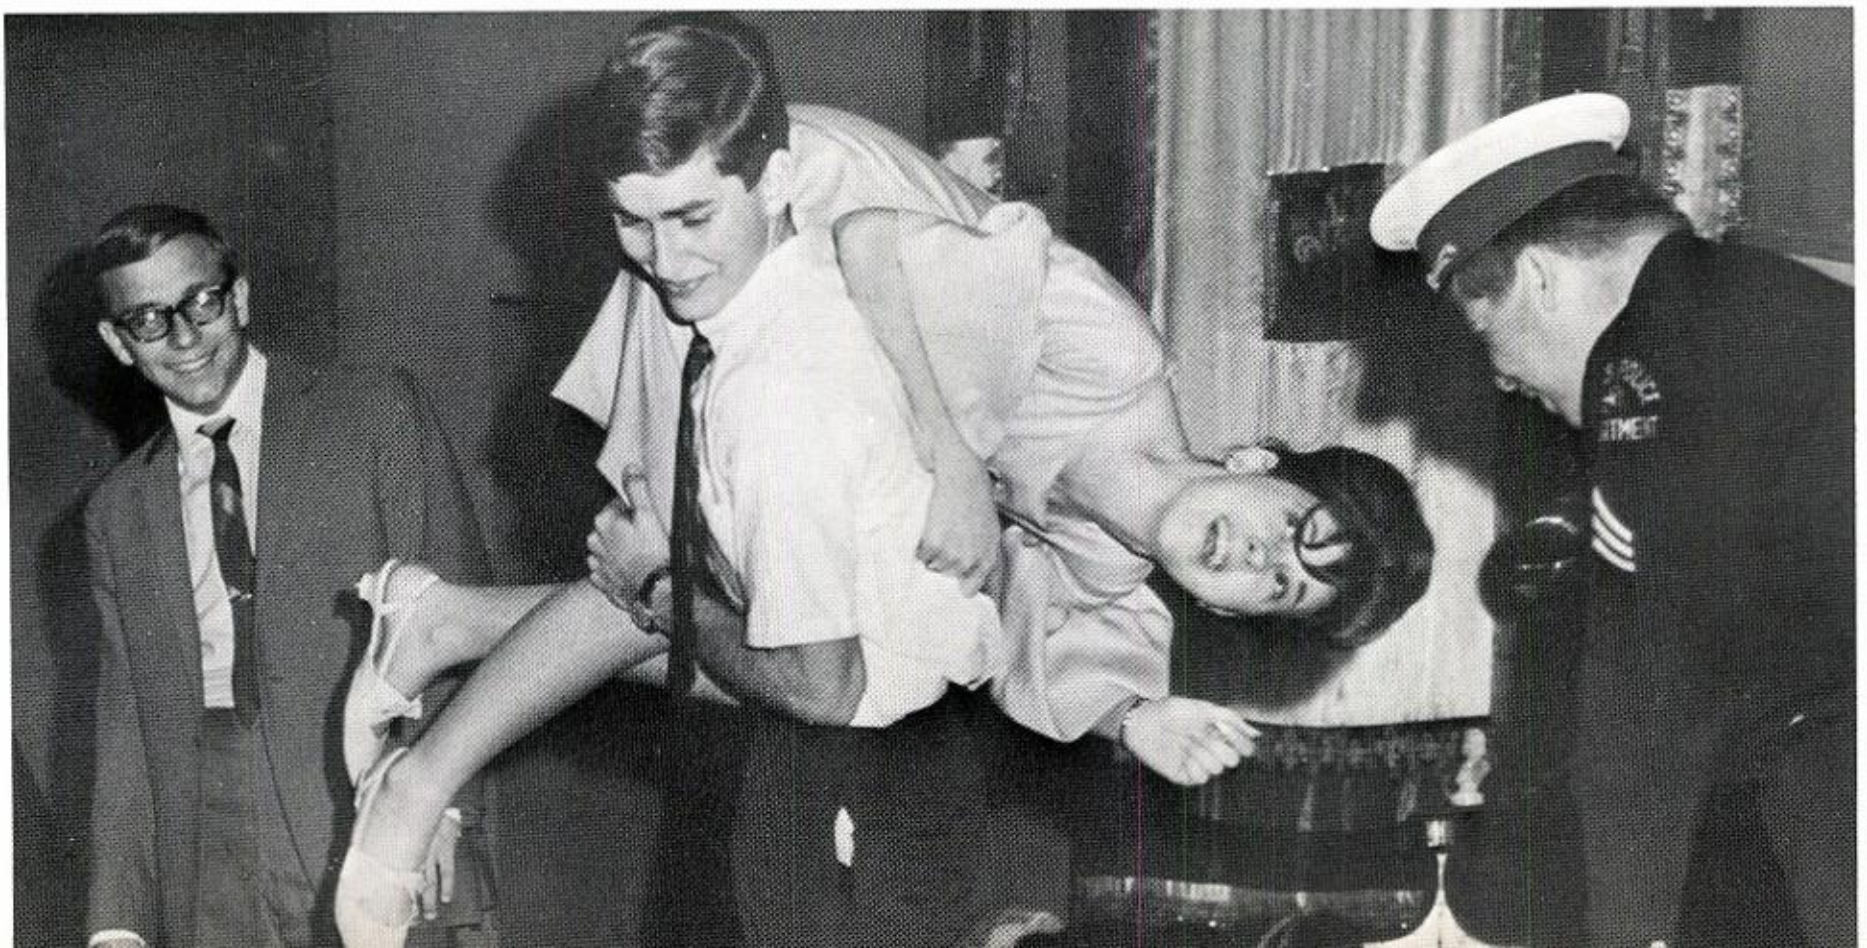

Even long hours
of studying
are interrupted
for entertainment.
Student Life is
also . . . singing,
dancing, and
showing others
a good time.

The Class of '66 Presents Pillow Talk

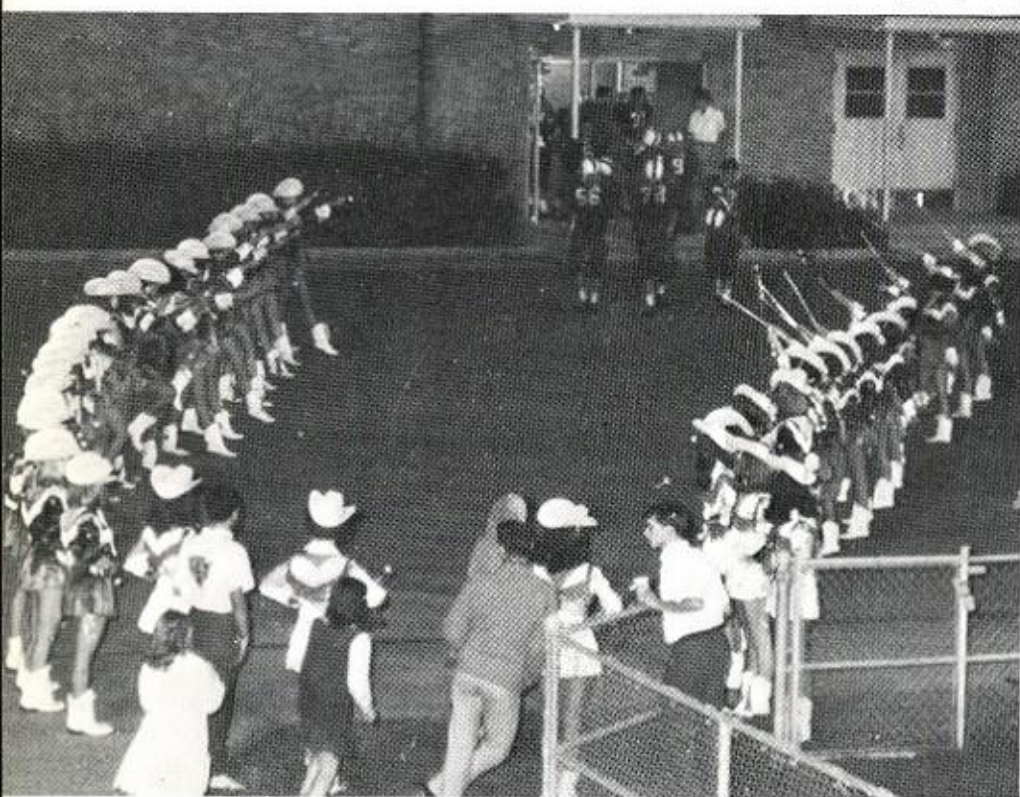

Mass confusion explodes when Martha Cummings, the leading lady, discovers that John Hayn, who plays a shy Texan, is really a New York playboy. Larry Bellah and Bertie Johnson add much to the hilarious conflict.

Student Life is SPORTSMANSHIP In . . .

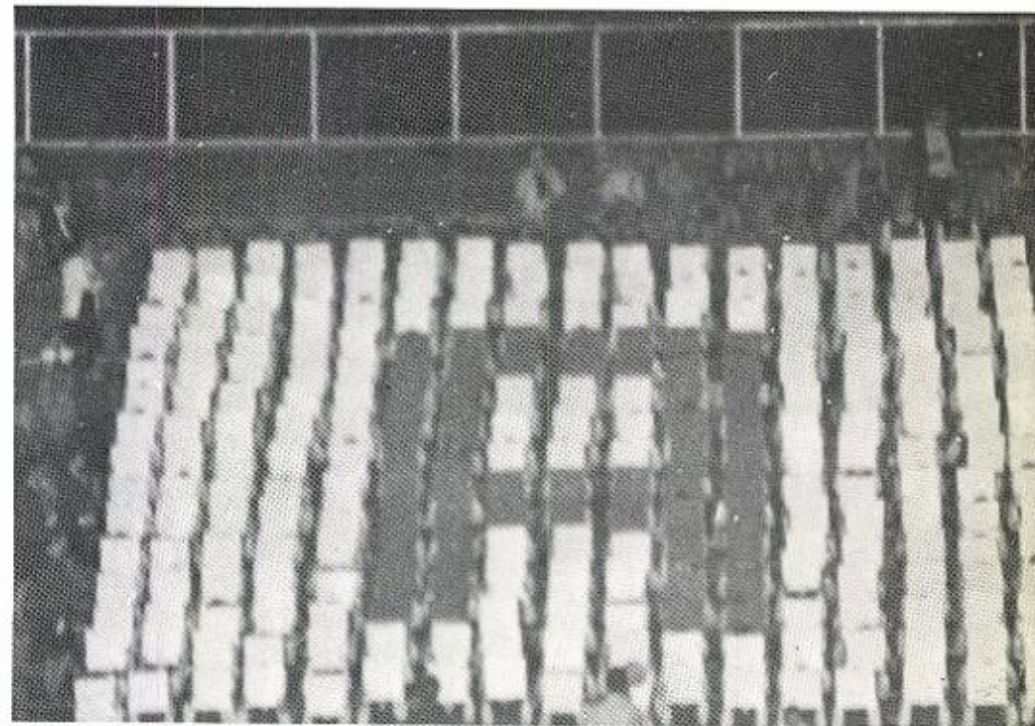

The rewards of VICTORY (mnn . . . Dave)

The agony of defeat.

David Laughlin, Glen Harding, and Robert Loyd honor Coach Batchelor with the Kimball game ball.

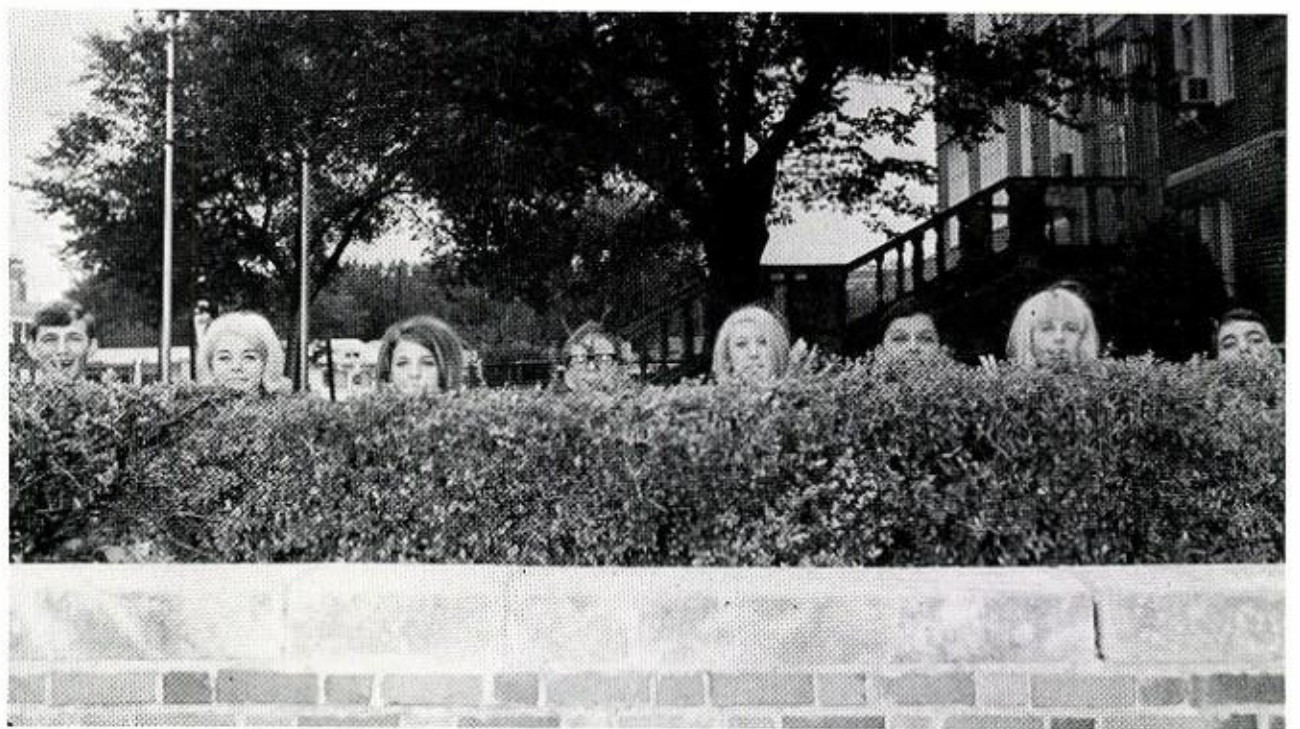

Other schools display sportsmanship toward "Big A".

Donnie Young presents Coach Brownlee with the game ball after our 22 to 0 victory over North Dallas.

Sue Herrmann Lennie Milke

For the eleventh consecutive year, the student council has sponsored "Howdy Week". Throughout the week, students wear a card with a big, friendly "HOWDY" and the student's name. To climax the week, the friendliest boy and girl are chosen by the students.

A Tribute to One Who Is Dedicated to Youth And their Ambitions

Miss Ruth Ruffin has counseled hundreds of Adamsonites in regard to their futures, always keeping the student's interests and abilities in mind. She is stern, yet understanding, and most of all a friend. Adamson owes much to this dedicated teacher and counselor who has given so much to her school.

Leopardettes Are Two Being in

Up every morning at the crack of dawn, the sticky dampness ruining a carefully combed hairdo, strenuous exercises causing a slight limp in a usually normal walk, lugging an extra set of clothes to school every morning, having three minutes to dress for classes ... these are a few of the not so pleasant parts of being a Leopardette.

The thrill of performing beneath the glow of stadium lights, the satisfaction of a long week paying off in a job well done, the feeling of really being a part of the school, the fun that comes from being together, and the lasting friendships that are developed from these years in drill team ... these are the things that make the time and effort spent in being a Leopardette worthwhile.

Typing copy is part of the job of Lana Ivy, Carolyn Roswell, and Bill Humphries.

Marsha Bills, editor-in-chief, selects pictures in addition to supervising the work of all staff members.

Kathy Cludius looks on as staff artist Wayne Mer-shawn finishes a drawing.

Advertising managers Mary Skaggs and Sondra Culverhouse draw up some ad pages.

Photographer Bob Humphries prepares to snap one of the many pictures he takes for the annual.

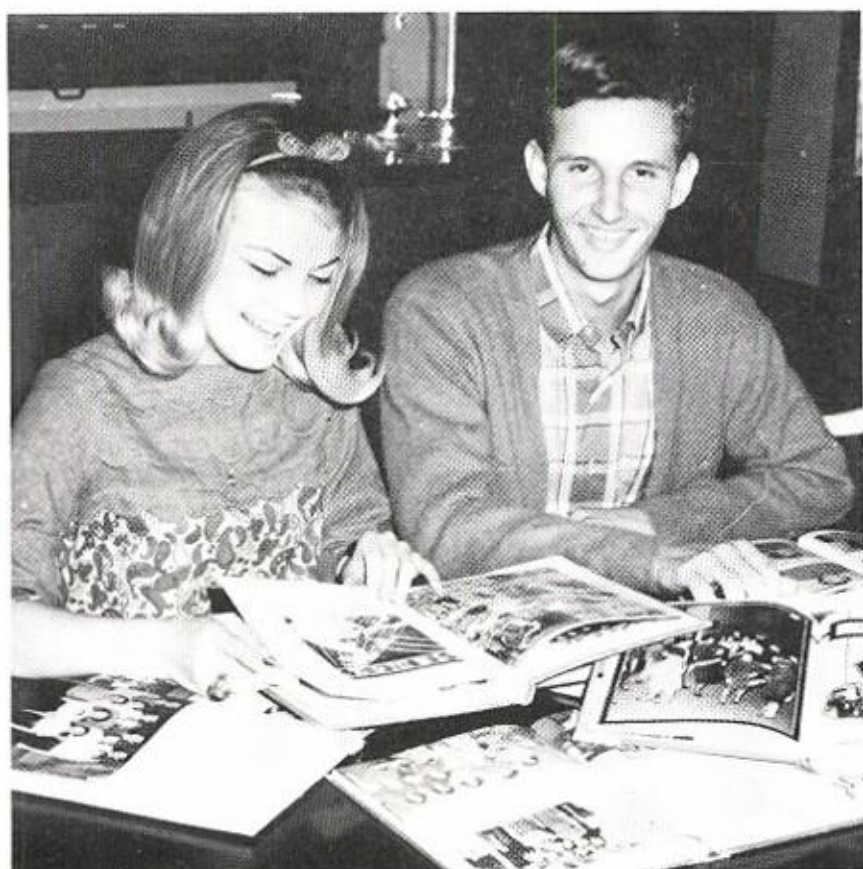

Nancy Wilson, copy editor, files away some finished pages that she has proof-read.

Susan Kidd, along with Rosemary Newell, crops a picture to be used in the Oak.

Oak Staff Works To Meet Deadlines

Under the direction of Mr. Robert Johnston, sponsor, the 1967 Oak staff worked long hours, planning pages, taking pictures, preparing layouts, writing copy, proofreading, and indexing to prepare a record of this year in pictures.

Sample year-books give Janice Webb and Glen Armstrong some ideas for pages to be drawn up.

Finished pages are taken to the publisher by Claudia Goodman and Darrene Goodman.

Under the supervision of Mr. Brownlee, the OAK business staff handles all money connected with the sale and production of the yearbook, and handles distribution in the spring.

Anthony Picchioni, Jan Furgeson, and David Laughlin happily collect money from OAK orders.

Bobby Maulsby, Sally Hayes, and Sara Williams check files while awaiting orders.

Mr. George Brownlee, OAK Business Manager

OAK Business Staff Works Hard

Oak representatives collect money for OAK orders in their respective homerooms.

Janice Webb, editor of the Acorn, assigns stories, reads copy, makes page layouts, proof-reads, and writes her own column in addition to overseeing the production of the entire paper.

Sharon White, Sales Manager, is in charge of publicity for the paper and oversees payments of advertisements in the paper as well as sales of the paper.

Reporting for the Acorn is done by the Journalism class. Its members write the stories and read the copy which is then sent to the printer. Next, printed galleys are returned to be proofread and pasted onto the layout pages, then returned again to the printer to produce the final edition of the Acorn.

R.O.T.C. is a program designed to teach young men the vibrancy of honor, and the power of respect. Uniforms and equipment for the high school corps is furnished by the U. S. Army. In R.O.T.C. young men are trained and prepared for entrance into a branch of the military or some form of disciplinary business.

*Eddie,
You're a great guy.
Lots of Luck,
Larry Craft*

Planning, Serving, Principal's Goal

THOMAS W. MEEK, Principal

Amidst the yearly planning of coming school events, such as homecoming and student council activities, the high school principal does many jobs. He is the organizer, the supervisor, the leader. The efficiency of the person is reflected in the efficiency of the school over which he presides. The efficiency of T. W. Meek is demonstrated in the effectiveness of all phases of the program at W. H. Adamson.

Royce Larsen, Asst. Principal

Working with students here at Big "A" are several counselors, such as Mr. Royce Larsen, Assistant Principal, who counsels individuals in whatever problems they may have at Adamson and Miss Helen Brown, pupil-personnel counselor, who also works with students in the attendance office. Students begin planning their future college years with the help of Miss Carolyn Hyman and Miss Ruth Ruffin. Mr. Larsen holds the Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees from ETSU.

GERALDINE HOLLOWAY
Secretary

The fact that a secretary is vital to the efficiency of a principal is illustrated in Mrs. Geraldine Holloway, who is always busy assisting Mr. Meek.

While the school nurse, Faye Ingram is a sympathetic listener to all those who are sick, others keep the records of the school in order. Mrs. Nettie Briges, counselor's clerk, is in charge of all school counseling records, and Mrs. Virginia Cafferata operates the data processing center for Adamson as well as for three other schools in the city.

Librarians Lend a Helping Hand

Adamson students rely greatly on the school librarians when they need books and information. Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Brown both put forth great effort and time in helping students along in their studies. They devote many long hours to arranging and supplying the library with both educational and enlightening reading materials.

Craftsmanship is unchanging, though its techniques have been revolutionized endlessly through the years.

*Craftsmanship is precision . . .
knowledge . . . dexterity — patience.*

But most of all, craftsmanship is pride in the job — pride that goes beyond pay or price or profit.

Craftsmanship is not a system that can be installed by engineers. It is an indefinable element that is bred into the fabric of an organization by inspired leadership and unending insistence upon producing only the finest. Craftsmanship works through the mind and the hand, but its genesis is in the heart.

Craftsmanship is a blending
of many things . . .

Self-Discipline is Key to Honor Study Hall

Honor Study Hall was instituted during the 1966-67 school year in order to establish and maintain desirable study conditions and to develop the spirit of self-direction and self-discipline among those students who desired an opportunity to be on their honor with the privileges of increased esteem, superior standing, and personal distinction. Mr. David Forgey acted as faculty sponsor and supervised the students in charge of the study hall.

MR. DAVID FORGEY

We're Through!

Editor-in-chief Marsha Bills and Student Life Editor Susan Kidd show hysterical delight at having finished the 1967 OAK.

For their cooperation in helping to produce this book, many thanks go to Mr. Robert Johnston, staff sponsor; Mr. Thomas Meek, principal; Mr. Joe Teague and Mr. Bill Cathey, photographers; and Mr. Charles Wilson, Taylor Representative.

Stop a good head and don't let that - get to you.
